Job Description*	Science Tokyo is seeking a few Specially Appointed Professors (Ecosystem Builders / Program Managers, PMs) for its Visionary Initiatives (VIs), <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>-who will oversee and coordinate the development of a global industry-academia-government ecosystem and research operations through the VI program;</li> <li>- and who will work in close collaboration with Program Directors (PDs), serving as co-leaders in advancing research initiatives.</li> </ul> The successful candidate will support the planning and design of diverse research projects and work alongside researchers to realize shared “visions” for the future. &lt;About Visionary Initiatives (VIs)&gt; Science Tokyo introduced a new vision-driven integrated research framework across the Institute in April 2025 to create enhanced societal impact across various key areas. Driving the model forward are newly established Visionary Initiatives (VIs) — international, multi-sectoral hubs that strive to solve critical societal issues based on “visions for the future.” These VIs are significantly transforming Science Tokyo’s current research framework, which was vertically divided by disciplinary fields such as the medical and dental sciences, science and engineering, informatics, and the liberal arts, into a cross-disciplinary approach. This is accelerating integrated research, boosting collaboration in fields such as medicine and engineering — one of the goals of the merger between Science Tokyo’s predecessor universities — and creating an ecosystem that generates innovations together with diverse partners and organizations across society. &lt;For more information about the Visionary Initiatives, please refer to our press releases and related materials. &gt;
